

Join the Retired Associates' Group

Who are the Retired Associates?

The Retired Associates' Group of the Public Service Association of NSW was previously known as the Retired Officers' Branch.

Membership is available to all retired officers who were employed in the NSW public service - including statutory authorities and other organisations - and were members of the PSA prior to their retirement.

Membership is also available to the widows and widowers of those retired members.

Members of the Associates' Group may remain in the PSA's Provident Fund until the age of 70 provided they have been members of the Association and the Retired Associates' Group continuously since retirement.

When are the meetings?

Meetings are held on the fourth (4th) Tuesday of February, April, June (the Annual General Meeting), August and October. The December meeting is held on the second Tuesday. They are held at:

PSA House
11th floor
160 Clarence St, Sydney
(between King & Market Streets)

At 10:30 am

After the meetings, light refreshments are served in a comfortable atmosphere to enable members to get together and exchange views, swap yarns, talk over matters of concern and renew old acquaintances with workmates and associates.

What does the Group do?

With representation on various retiree bodies and direct reporting to the PSA Executive, the Group is in a position to influence decisions made by the PSA and other organisations on behalf of its retired members.

Matters such as superannuation, pensioner fringe benefits, travel and other issues of significance to senior citizens are pursued through these forums.

The Group can also take up matters with the Premier and his Ministers through the PSA's General Secretary.

The Group is affiliated with the Combined Pensioners and Superannuants of NSW and the Combined Retired Union Members' Association.

The Group has also participated with national retiree organisations in incomes conferences.
