

ADHC Campaign update

What's next? PSA ramps up local actions

Following the resounding success of your state-wide strike, the PSA is rolling out actions across NSW, ramping up the focus on the privatisation of disability services.

Starting with our Premier, Gladys Berejiklian, we will be taking the fight to the doorstep of the politicians responsible for selling off and selling out people with disability and the workers who support them!

We will keep you posted as events are scheduled so you can help us fight to #keepitpublic.

Pressure on decision-makers the only way

For our on-the-ground actions to have even more impact, we need to let Government MPs know their constituents care about this issue.

There is no better person to deliver the message that Disability Services should stay in public hands than YOU!

Help us get this issue front and centre by emailing your MP today and asking colleagues, family and friends to join you in fighting against disability privatisation.

Emailing your MP is simple, just CLICK HERE and enter your postcode.

<http://www.pds.org.au/email-mp>

Know someone who isn't a member?

A strong union means better outcomes for all members; encourage your workmates to JOIN the PSA today and get involved in the fight to #keepitpublic.

<https://membership.psa.asn.au/Register>

