3. Statement of Intent

The purpose of the Award is to provide a framework that allows the Audit Office to meet its specific business needs as well as the needs of its employees. It also enables those employees to be appropriately rewarded for their contribution and provides flexibility in their employment arrangements and conditions. The Award was developed using a co-operative and consultative approach to negotiations by the parties.

4. Parties

4.1 The parties to this Award are:

4.1.1 The Audit Office of New South Wales

4.1.2 Public Service Association and Professional Officers' Association Amalgamated Union of New South Wales on behalf of the employees of The Audit Office of New South Wales.

5. Basis of Employment and Remuneration

5.1 Basis of Employment

5.1.1 The employment of Audit Office employees is subject to Section 33B of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983. Consequently they are appointed at the discretion of the Auditor-General.

5.1.2 It is the intention of the parties to this Award that the Audit Office's recruitment policy will indicate the steps to be taken to determine the availability of skills, expertise or experience within the Audit Office prior to the initiation of any external recruitment. Appointment to a position at the Audit Office will involve a three month probationary period or such period as the Auditor-General directs. The probationary period applies to all employees.

5.1.3 Subject to Section 33B of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983, the Auditor-General will, wherever possible, follow the management practices relating to termination and dismissal prescribed in legislation that affects NSW employers.

5.1.4 A temporary employee may be directly appointed to a permanent position if the employee has filled that position for two years on a temporary basis and was initially recruited under merit selection.

5.1.5 Resignation - two weeks' notice in writing is required unless the Audit Office agrees to a lesser period of notice.

5.1.6 Termination of employment- two weeks' notice shall be given to an employee, or, in lieu of notice, the Audit Office may grant payment in lieu.

5.2 Basis for Calculating Remuneration

The basis for calculating remuneration for employees is Total Remuneration Package ("TRP") which is the total of base pay, including leave loading and compulsory superannuation guarantee contributions.

For employees in defined benefit superannuation funds the superannuation guarantee contribution component will be deducted from the TRP to determine salary, and the current employer superannuation contribution requirements will continue to be made as required.

5.3 Broad Remuneration Bands

The remuneration band for each role as set out in Part B Tables 1 and 2, is informed by relevant market factors (e.g. position at the 25th percentile of the Finance and Accounting Market or General Market) and organisational factors (such as relativities, role criticality and historical assessments).

5.4 Variations to Remuneration Bands

Variations to the Remuneration Bands are effective from the beginning of the first full pay period to commence on or after 1 July 2017.

5.5 Appointment and Progression

5.5.1 Auditors and Analysts will be placed at the relevant pay point in the relevant remuneration band in accordance with Annexure 1. Other employees may be appointed at any TRP within the relevant remuneration bands depending on their performance, experience, skills and qualifications.

When commencing a role at the Audit Office an employee will be placed within the relevant remuneration band for their role based on their previous experience, qualifications and performance as demonstrated during the recruitment process.

5.6.2 Corporate Administrative employees will continue to be employed under the conditions set out in Part A, clause 5.6.1 until Part A, clause 5.6.3 occurs.

5.6.3 As each role classified and graded for remuneration purposes in accordance with the Crown Employees (Administrative and Clerical Officers - Salaries) Award 2007 at the commencement of this Award falls vacant due to resignation or promotion, that role will be replaced with an equivalent role under this Award. This equivalent role is defined as a "replacement role".

5.6.4 Remuneration bands for the replacement roles are set out in Part B, Table 1.

6. No extra claims

Other than as provided for in the Industrial Relations Act 1996 and the Industrial Relations (Public Sector Conditions of Employment) Regulation 2014, there shall be no further claims/demands or proceedings instituted before the NSW Industrial Relations Commission for extra or reduced wages, salaries, rates of pay, allowances or conditions of employment with respect to the Employees covered by the Award that take effect prior to 30 June 2018 by a party to this Award.

7. Annual Remuneration Assessment

The annual remuneration assessment for Audit Professionals Levels B and C, Corporate Professionals Levels A and B, Corporate Administrative Levels 1 to 4 is set out below.

7.1 General

7.1.1 Remuneration for these employees will be determined annually based on assessed contribution in accordance with the competency zones set out in Annexure 2.

- 7.1.2 Determinations resulting from the annual remuneration assessment will have the same effective date as the annual changes to the remuneration bands, i.e. effective first full pay period to commence in July each year. Remuneration determinations will be expressed in terms of a percentile of the relevant remuneration band and will be applied to the adjusted dollar range of the remuneration bands.
- 7.1.3 The remuneration of employees in these roles will at least be maintained at the same level at each annual remuneration assessment except where an employee's performance has been assessed as "unsatisfactory" and a formal process for managing unsatisfactory performance results in a recommendation to reduce remuneration.
- 7.1.4 Other than the exceptions described in Part A, clause 7.1.3, if an employee is assessed at a percentile lower than their current level and that would result in a reduction in remuneration, they will continue to be paid at the same dollar level until such time as the remuneration for their assessed percentile exceeds their remuneration in dollars through movement of the remuneration bands or the annual remuneration assessment process.
- 7.1.5 During an Annual Remuneration Assessment, remuneration will be reviewed, but will not necessarily be increased as a result of such review.
- 7.1.6 The remuneration assessment process will be conducted within business guidelines issued by the Audit Office from time to time.

7.2 Review of Assessment

If an employee has any concern with the outcome of their remuneration assessment, they may, in the first instance, discuss their concerns with their Manager. If that discussion does not resolve their concerns, they may then seek advice from the Executive Manager, Human Resources or a more senior member of the Audit Office executive. If, following those discussions, their concerns are not satisfied, they may initiate a formal process of review by written request to the Executive Manager, Human Resources. The formal process will include review by a panel. Where requested by a PSA member, an Association representative may be included on the panel. The panel will make recommendations for consideration by the Auditor-General.

8. Performance Management

The Performance Review and Development process is integral to and supports the annual remuneration assessment process. Full details of the Audit Office Performance Review and Development process are set out in a number of documents which are maintained and reviewed regularly by the Audit Office for appropriateness and ability to deliver organisation objectives. All process documents are freely available to employees on the Audit Office intranet.

9. Flexible Work Practices

All flexible work practices will be subject to approval, as set out in the relevant Audit Office policies and delegations manuals.

The parties to this Award are committed to fostering flexible work practices with the intention of providing greater flexibility in dealing with workloads, work deadlines and the balance between work and family life. Employees and their managers must develop a strategy to ensure accumulated flex leave is monitored and forfeiture minimised.

9.1 Flexible Working Hours

- 9.1.1 The ordinary hours of work for full time employees are 35 hours per week ("Ordinary Working Hours"), Monday to Friday, worked flexibly to meet business needs. Exceptions to this standard arrangement must be mutually agreed, in writing between an employee and their manager.

- 9.1.2 Employees may be required to perform reasonable additional hours of work necessary, by mutual agreement, to meet the operational requirements of the Audit Office.
- 9.1.3 Employees must work a minimum of 3.5 consecutive hours (excluding meal breaks) by mutual agreement between the employee and their manager.
- 9.1.4 Attendance at work outside Ordinary Working Hours is subject to the needs of the Audit Office, approval by the employee's manager and the availability of work.
- 9.1.5 Flex Leave - all hours worked in excess of the employee's Ordinary Working Hours and not overtime can be accrued to be taken as flex-time. Accrued flex-time can be taken subject to approval by the employee's manager and in line with the needs of the business. The manager should consider the management of an employee's flex leave balance when considering approval.
- 9.1.6 Carry Over - accrued but untaken flex time will be forfeited on 31 December each year save for a maximum of 35 hours (pro-rata for part-time employees) carrying over to 1 January the following year.
- 9.1.7 At each month end, an employee must not have a flex-time balance below negative 10 hours. Where this occurs, the hours in excess must be converted to another type of leave, such as Recreation Leave or Leave Without Pay.
- 9.1.8 Accrued flex-time is not payable upon cessation of employment.
- 9.1.9 Meal breaks - there will be a minimum meal break of 30 minutes in every 5 hour period of continuous work. There is no maximum period for a meal break. Employees should consult with their manager in the taking of meal breaks where required.

9.2 Other Flexible Work Practices

Flexible work practices available to employees, subject to approval are:

- 9.2.1 Working weekends and public holidays at the employee's request will be compensated with time off during the week on an hour for hour basis (not at overtime rates).
- 9.2.2 Compressed working week or working fortnight arrangements. Such arrangements would include 35 hours in 4 days (average 8.75 hours per day) or 70 hours in 9 days (average 7.77 hours per day).

- 9.2.4 Deferred Remuneration. For instance, an employee who works for 4 years and takes the 5th year off will receive the deferred portion of their first 4 years annual remuneration in the 5th year.
- 9.2.5 Working from home on a temporary or ad hoc basis for a maximum of 12 days per annum. Permanent or longer term working from home arrangements will be subject to the Business Unit Leader's approval and meeting work health & safety requirements.

- 9.2.7 Leave without pay. Such requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.
- 9.2.8 Career Break Scheme for up to 2 years maximum.

10. Overtime

- 10.1 Employees may be directed to work overtime, but this must be pre-approved as delegated by the Auditor-General.
- 10.2 An employee may be directed by the Audit Office to work overtime, provided it is reasonable for the employee to be required to do so. An employee may refuse to work overtime in circumstances where to do so would result in the employee working unreasonable hours. In determining what is unreasonable, the following factors shall be taken into account:
 - 10.2.1 The employee's prior commitments outside the workplace, particularly the employee's family and carer responsibilities, community obligations or study arrangements
 - 10.2.2 Any risk to an employee's health and safety
 - 10.2.3 The urgency of the work required to be performed during overtime, the impact on the operational commitments of the Audit Office and the effect on client services
 - 10.2.4 The notice (if any) given by the Audit Office regarding the working of the overtime, and by the employee of their intention to refuse overtime or

- 10.4 All overtime will be credited as time in lieu as follows:
 - 10.4.1 In the case of Audit Professional Levels A and B, Corporate Professional Level A, and Corporate Administrative Levels 1 to 4, in accordance with the rate set out in 10.8 and the overtime conditions set out from time to time in Annexure 3.
 - 10.4.2 For employees above those levels, at the rate of time and one half.
- 10.5 Time in lieu of overtime must be taken within 3 months of accrual as a general rule. Any request to extend the time limit must be made prior to the three month period expiring.
- 10.6 Cash payment for overtime credited as time in lieu may be made at the discretion of the Audit Office where circumstances warrant. Business Unit Leader approval is required.
- 10.7 Payment for overtime credited as time in lieu will be calculated as remuneration less the 9.5% superannuation component. At all remuneration levels the rate for calculating payments will be capped at the 45th percentile of the remuneration band for the Audit Professional Level B classification less the 9.5% superannuation component.
- 10.8 Rates - Overtime shall be paid at the following rates:

10.10.1 An employee who works overtime shall be entitled to be absent until eight (8) consecutive hours have elapsed.

10.10.2 Where an employee, at the direction of the manager, resumes or continues work without having had eight (8) consecutive hours off duty then such employee shall be paid at the appropriate overtime rate until released from duty. The employee shall then be entitled to eight (8) consecutive hours off duty and shall be paid for the ordinary working time occurring during the absence.

11. Travel Time and Expenses

11.1 Excess Travel Time

Time spent travelling to and from home and 'place of work' above the time it would normally take to travel to and from home and 'place of employment', in a 5 day working week exceeding 2.5 hours (pro-rata for part-time employees), will be deemed to be excess travel and may be treated as working hours. When travel is required on a weekend or public holiday, time spent in transit will be classed as flexible working hours.

- 14.3 Where the grievance or dispute involves confidential or other sensitive material (including issues of harassment or discrimination under the Anti-Discrimination Act 1977) that makes it impractical for the employee to advise their immediate manager the notification may occur to the next appropriate level of management, including where required, directly to the Auditor-General or delegate.
- 14.4 The immediate manager, or the person notified, shall convene a meeting in order to resolve the grievance, dispute or difficulty as soon as practicable, of the matter being brought to attention.
- 14.5 If the matter remains unresolved with the immediate manager, the employee may request to meet the appropriate person at the next level of management to resolve the matter. This manager shall respond as soon as practicable. This sequence of reference to successive levels of management may be pursued by the employee until the matter is referred to the Auditor-General.
- 14.6 If the matter remains unresolved, the Auditor-General shall provide a written response to the employee and any other party involved in the grievance, dispute or difficulty, concerning action to be taken, or the reason for not taking action, in relation to the matter.

Any variation to the schedule of Association fortnightly membership fees payable shall be provided to the employer at least one month in advance of the variation taking effect.
- 15.3 Subject to subclauses 15.1 and 15.2 above, the Audit Office shall deduct Association fortnightly membership fees from the remuneration of any employee who is a member of the Association in accordance with the Association's rules, provided that the employee has authorised the Audit Office to make such deductions.
- 15.4 Monies so deducted from employee's remuneration shall be forwarded regularly to the Association together with all necessary information to enable the Association to reconcile and credit subscriptions to employees' Association membership accounts.

16.2.2 The Audit Office shall give the employee notice in writing of the provisions of this subclause within four weeks of the employee having attained such period of six months. However, the employee retains his or her right of election under this subclause if the employer fails to comply with this notice requirement.

ongoing contract of employment to full-time or part-time employment, and within four weeks of receiving such notice from the employee, the Audit Office shall consent to or refuse the election, but shall not unreasonably so refuse. Where the Audit Office refuses an election to convert, the reasons for doing so shall be fully stated and discussed with the employee concerned, and a genuine attempt shall be made to reach agreement. Any dispute about a refusal of an election to convert an ongoing contract of employment shall be dealt with as far as practicable and with expedition through the disputes settlement procedure.

16.2.4 Any casual employee who does not, within four weeks of receiving written notice from the Audit Office, elect to convert his or her ongoing contract of employment to full-time employment or part-time employment will be deemed to have elected against any such conversion.

16.2.5 Once a casual employee has elected to become and been converted to a full-time employee or a part-time employee, the employee may only revert to casual employment by written agreement with the Audit Office.

16.2.6 If a casual employee has elected to have his or her contract of employment converted to full-time or part-time employment in accordance with subclause 16.2.3, the Audit Office and employee shall, in accordance with this subclause, and subject to subclause 16.2.3, discuss and agree upon:

16.2.6.1 whether the employee will convert to full-time or part-time employment, and

16.2.6.2 if it is agreed that the employee will become a part-time employee, the number of hours and the pattern of hours that will be worked either consistent with any other part-time employment provisions of this Award pursuant to a part time work agreement made under Chapter 2, Part 5 of the Industrial Relations Act 1996 (NSW).

Provided that an employee who has worked on a full-time basis throughout the period of casual employment has the right to elect to convert his or her contract of employment to full-time employment and an employee who has worked on a part-time basis during the period of casual employment has the right to elect to convert his or her contract of employment to part-time employment, on the basis of the same number of hours and times of work as previously worked, unless other arrangements are agreed between the Audit Office and the employee.

16.2.7 Following an agreement being reached pursuant to subclause 16.2.6, the employee shall convert to full-time or part-time employment. If there is any dispute about the arrangements to apply to an employee converting from casual employment to full-time or part-time employment, it shall be dealt with as far as practicable and with expedition through the disputes settlement procedure.

16.2.8 An employee must not be engaged and re-engaged, dismissed or replaced to avoid any obligation under this subclause.

16.3.1 For the purposes of this subclause, the following definitions shall apply:

16.3.2 Where the Audit Office engages a labour hire business and/or a contract business to perform work wholly or partially on its premises it shall do the following (either directly, or through the agency of the labour hire or contract business):

16.3.2.1 consult with employees of the labour hire business and/or contract business regarding the workplace work health and safety consultative arrangements

16.3.2.4 ensure employees of the labour hire business and/or contract business are made aware of any risks identified in the workplace and the procedures to control those risks.

16.3.3 Nothing in this subclause 16.3 is intended to affect or detract from any obligation or responsibility upon a labour hire business arising under the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 or the Workplace Injury Management and Workers Compensation Act 1998.

Remuneration Competency Zone Guidelines

Performance is about how an employee actually fulfils expectations for the role over the year, and relates less to expectations of their ability to deliver.

Indicators are:

1. Consistency - is the level of performance consistent across the role responsibilities, or are there gaps or variations in the level of performance?
2. Sustained performance - Is the level of performance consistent over time (this is a longer term view of performance)?
3. Achievement of all aspects of the role responsibilities - how do they deliver against all of the defined role attributes, and are they actively seeking to improve in areas where delivery is not meeting expectations?
4. What differentiates one employee from another, such as their drive, desire and success in delivering outcomes; this needs to take account of variations in ability to deliver, which may be experience or development related.

Capability is essentially the "ability to do". It is an assessment of how well the employee can handle the needs of the job.

In determining levels of capability, the following are considered:

1. The depth and breadth of capability required to keep the job on track (time and budget) and delivering quality outcomes.
2. What the employee is doing to maintain or improve themselves.
3. The skills and behaviours of the employee as they relate to the job itself.
4. The level of capability that the employee has developed and attempts to bring to the role, irrespective of whether the role itself presents opportunities to use the full range of skills and behaviours

Experience isn't simply the length of time someone has been doing a job. This can be a factor in determining whether an employee has had broad enough exposure to a range of responsibilities and activities, but it's more the extent the employee has experienced and dealt-with the complexities of this position. It's important to consider:

1. The range of jobs; size, complexity, and scope of projects and audits; project management of multiple or complex audits; breadth and depth of jobs managed; range of industry experience and specialised industry knowledge.
2. Achievement of role responsibilities and reaching expected outcomes, anticipating and managing risks, conflicts, competing demands, impediments, and changes.
3. Demonstrating the competencies of the role for their level of expertise, or even showing levels of proficiency beyond the role.
4. Experience-seeking - do they proactively seek activities or projects that will help them broaden their experience?

Promotability encompasses indicators of the employee's ability to step up to the next level of challenge, in both attitude and capability. The extent to which they can demonstrate their ability to "step up" to the next level may depend on the opportunities given to them by their manager, so it's important to think about delegation and development in advance.

In determining promotability, the following are considered:

1. The employee's capability and willingness to take on more responsibility than they currently have - do they welcome challenges? Can they adapt to changing situations? Are they prepared to make decisions?
2. The extent to which the employee is a self starter who consistently seeks greater challenges.
3. The extent to which the employee pursues learning and development activities - are they constantly trying new processes and tools, and taking ownership of their own development?
4. Are they accountable for their own ideas and activities, and confident in their own decision-making?
5. The extent to which the employee challenges ways of doing things and develops new approaches

Ability to work independently relates closely to an employee's ability to learn and grow, and to take responsibility for his or her own deliverables. It's essential that managers can trust employees, and not have to check or guide them through the same issues time and again.

In determining the employee's level of independence, the following will be considered:

1. The level at which an employee needs to be monitored, guided, and directed - this has to be weighed against their desire to learn and grow, and needs to reflect whether the guidance is regularly covering the same ground, and the level of respect shown for the Manager's priorities.
2. The extent to which the manager and employee agree tasks and deadlines up front, and whether the employee subsequently meets or manages in a way that keeps the manager well-informed.
3. The extent to which the employee learns new skills or learns from experience.

Role model and advisor to peers goes beyond aspects of technical excellence; it encompasses all key aspects of the role, and reflects more on the employee's maturity and engagement, to the extent their attitude and abilities set examples for others.

In determining to what extent an employee acts as a role model, the following will be considered:

1. The influence the employee has over peers - for expertise, situational knowledge, approachability, mentorship (formal or informal), attitude, etc.
2. The extent to which peers seek and value specific advice or more general coaching.
3. The extent of the employee's external profile, if working in a capacity where this is required.
4. The employee's profile within the Office.
5. What would clients say about this employee's level of professionalism, service, and work ethic.

The responsibility of deciding whether the provision of assistance with transport is warranted in the circumstances set out above rests with the Audit Office Business Unit Leader.
