NSW Police Re-engineering update

The PSA has been engaging with NSW Police about Re-Engineering discussions in the workplace and the need to consult with your union about the process.

The PSA will be meeting with NSW Police and the Police Association on Monday, 24 July 2017 to discuss Re-engineering and the commencement of its taskforce.

NSW Police has confirmed all proposals will be submitted to the Re-Engineering Taskforce as part of the consultation process. To date, NSW Police has not provided the PSA with any specific information about any proposed changes.

The PSA will advise members as soon as any further information is available, and will update you after the meeting on 24 July 2017.

The PSA will be working to protect your jobs and entitlements during this process.
