

Celebrate the work you do with the PSA for Child Protection Week

The PSA and your federal union the CPSU SPSF are again promoting and acknowledging the contribution of NSW public sector child protection workers during this Child Protection Week.

Nominate a Child Protection Delegate!

We are running the National Child Protection Delegate Awards again, we want to thank your delegates, who work so hard campaigning for well-resourced child protection services, and a safe and fair workplace where workers are supported and respected.

Nominate a delegate who should be recognised for their contribution by giving an example in a few short paragraphs of how the delegate is working to make child protection better; stories should demonstrate the union values of fairness, equality and solidarity.

Nominations close 28 June.

Voting opens for state finalists in July.

National winner will be announced in Child Protection Week.

Prize is a Red Balloon voucher for the delegate to spend on a group activity with the union members in their workplace.
