The Child Protection Delegate Awards are here again: get your nominations in NOW!

The PSA and your federal union the CPSU SPSF want to acknowledge the value and recognise the contribution of union delegates who are working to make child protection better for their colleagues and the children they protect across NSW and Australia.

We want to thank your delegates, who work so hard every year campaigning for well-resourced child protection services, and a safe and fair workplace where workers are supported and respected. This year, more than ever, they have been integral to the workplace, whether that be at the office, in the field or working from home.

Over the past 12 months they have promoted the work you do, fought to ensure you were looked after while performing disaster work during the bushfires, and stood strong to make sure everyone was safe and treated fairly during the global COVID-19 pandemic.

Nominate your delegate today

Thank the people that fight so hard for you by nominating them for the National Child Protection Delegate Awards.

Nominations can be from all community services areas including those working in Administrative Support, Caseworkers, Managers Casework, Psychologists, Legal staff, Casework Specialist staff, Policy and Programs staff and all frontline support workers in community services.
